13-14 May, 2016

Scientific Organizers:

Pelle Ahlerup (University of Gothenburg)

Jakob Svensson (IIES, Stockholm University)

The second ASWEDE conference on Development Economics will be hosted by the School of Business, Economics, and Law, University of Gothenburg on Friday 13 and Saturday 14 of May, 2016.* ASWEDE promotes scientific research in development economics through workshops and conferences, and supports cooperation between development economists active in Sweden. The conference is open to development economists active in and outside of Sweden.

We now invite submissions for the ASWEDE conference from researchers and PhD students on any topic within the area of Development Economics. The deadline for submission is 22 April, 2016.

The conference starts at 11 am on Friday May 13 and ends in the afternoon of Saturday May 14. To encourage an interactive conference, the program will contain a mix of shorter and longer presentations; open both to graduate students and senior researchers. The shorter presentations can include a brief discussion of new ideas, getting feedback on survey design, or more developed papers. For this reason, we hope that everyone attending the conference will take the opportunity to present some work. There will be a conference dinner on Friday evening.

Participants interested in presenting in the longer sessions should submit full papers while an abstract is sufficient to signal an interest in the shorter slots. All submissions as well as the intent to participate should be sent to ASWEDE@iies.su.se. Please indicate in the email whether you will be able to cover your own travel and accommodation costs or if you require funding from ASWEDE.

On behalf of the board of ASWEDE and the local organizers,

Pelle Ahlerup, Niklas Bengtsson, Martina Björkman-Nyqvist, Ann-Sofie Isaksson, Andreas Madestam, Anders Olofsgård, Ola Olsson, and Jakob Svensson

The conference is funded by the partnership program at the School of Business, Economics, and Law, University of Gothenburg.*
